

Giving Matters

ACUHO-I Foundation July 2010 Update

The ACUHO-I Foundation thanks everyone who donated their time, money, and silent auction bid items for this year's ACUHO-I Annual Conference & Exposition in Austin, Texas. Your generosity and support helped to make this year for the Foundation truly an exceptional experience and resulted in thousands of dollars being raised for the ACUHO-I Foundation.

14 New Major Donors Signed

This year saw a remarkable outpouring of support, as 14 individuals became Major Donors to the ACUHO-I Foundation, pledging to donate $5,000 over the next five years. We salute them, and all our donors, for their support as well as Lori Patterson, Assistant Director Family/Graduate Housing Louisiana State University and Chair of Major Donors/Gifts Committee for the Foundation who helped make it all possible.

The new major donors were: Richard DeShields; Vennie Gore; Katie and Charlie Boone; Julie McMahon; Melissa Krewson; Patty Martinez; Alma Sealine; Jeanette Bradeen; Willie Brown; Julie Payne Kirchmeier; Carol Young; Karen Corley; Tom Ellett; and Sharri Margraves.

(Pictured above: Willie Brown and Jeanette Bradeen at the ACE 2010 Foundation booth after becoming major donors)

Click here for more information on how you can become a major donor. And remember, giving online has just become easier with the new ACUHO-I Foundation website. Click here to visit the online donation page.

Raffles, Live and Silent Auctions, Make Big Impact

With almost 100 items available for bid – including premium items such as an iPad, Kindle, and trip to Las Vegas – this year the ACUHO-I Foundation netted more than $28,000. Thank you to Sue Beebe for organizing these efforts and to everyone who bid or entered the raffle.

Why Giving Matters: Joey McNamara, Lynn University

"I was thrilled to bring home a variety of items from the silent auction. My philosophy is, if I am going to buy the item at some point in time why not buy it now knowing the money is going to the Foundation. You may pay more than the value of the item, but instead of giving your money to a retail store, you have contributed to an organization that has a vision and mission that you value. I hope to see the Foundation continue to grow in the upcoming years."

Joey McNamara, Lynn University
2009-2010 NACURH National Chair and current Coordinator of Student Involvement for Programming

How You Can Get Involved with the Foundation

As evidenced by the activity at this year's conference Foundation booth, being part of the ACUHO-I Foundation can be rewarding and a lot of fun. The ACUHO-I Foundation Board is seeking applicants to fill three trustee positions and multiple Development Committee Chairs and member slots. Below you will find a link to information about the application process, necessary qualifications and responsibilities.

Click here for an application and more information. The deadline for nominations is August 9, 2010.

If you have additional questions about the ACUHO-I Foundation or information contained in the application, please contact us at foundation@acuho-i.org.

The Foundation thanks you for your support and consideration of giving your time to your Foundation.

